

Academic Success Policy

Scope

This policy is applicable to Kaplan Business School Pty Ltd (“Kaplan”).

Purpose

Kaplan is committed to providing all students maximum opportunity to develop and demonstrate the competence required to achieve their educational and career aspirations. The purpose of the Academic Success Policy is to provide information on the:

- rules for meeting course completion requirements
- identification of students who are, or are ‘at risk’ of, making unsatisfactory academic progress
- intervention strategies to ensure that students have access to appropriate support mechanisms
- processes relating to the exclusion of students who do not meet completion or academic progress requirements.

Progression rules

To be successful in their course of enrolment, students need to demonstrate a level of understanding, knowledge and skill expected at the relevant qualification level.

The following academic progress rules are provided to facilitate the progression of students within and between Kaplan qualifications.

Years to complete

The number of years permitted to meet course completion requirements are listed in the table below. The completion date will be calculated from the date of the student’s initial commencement date in the course (period and year) stated on the student’s transcript.

Course name	Requirements	Course Duration*
Diploma of Commerce	8 subjects	2 years or 6 trimesters
Diploma of Business	8 subjects	2 years or 6 trimesters
Bachelor of Business	24 subjects	6 years or 18 trimesters
Bachelor of Business (Accounting)	24 subjects	6 years or 18 trimesters
Bachelor of Business (Hospitality & Tourism Management)	24 subjects	6 years or 18 trimesters
Bachelor of Business (Human Resource Management)	24 subjects	6 years or 18 trimesters
Bachelor of Business (Marketing)	24 subjects	6 years or 18 trimesters
Graduate Certificate in Accounting	4 subjects	1 year or 3 trimesters

Course name	Requirements	Course Duration*
Master of Professional Accounting	12 subjects	4 years or 12 trimesters
Master of Accounting	16 subjects	5.5 years or 15 trimesters
Graduate Certificate in Business Administration	4 subjects	2 years or 6 trimesters
Graduate Diploma of Business Administration	8 subjects	3 years or 9 trimesters
Master of Business Administration	12 subjects	5 years or 15 trimesters

* Course duration listed in the above table is the maximum time approved for a student studying without visa restrictions. International students must complete their course within the time indicated on their Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE) and in accordance with student visa requirements.

Transferring between courses

Students who successfully complete a lesser nested award (e.g. Graduate Certificate) may transfer into a higher award (e.g. Masters degree), but the completion time for the higher award is calculated from the commencement date of the already completed lesser award. Similarly, where a student transfers course from a higher award into a lesser award, completion time will be calculated from the beginning of study in the higher award.

NB: conditions may apply for International students on student visas. Please refer to the Changes to Enrolment Policy.

Exiting from a course

Students enrolled in a higher award course (e.g. Masters degree) that has nested qualifications within it (e.g. Graduate Certificate) may exit with a lesser, nested qualification, provided they have met the requirements of the lesser award within the maximum time frame. That said, international students must be enrolled in the lower nested award and have a corresponding CoE at least a trimester prior to their intended completion of the lower award.

Applications for an extension of time

Students who fail to complete within the prescribed period, who can reasonably be expected to meet the course requirements within two additional trimesters (inclusive of any intervention strategies employed by Kaplan during the student's study) may apply for an extension of time.

An extension of a student's CoE may only be granted where it is clear that the student will not complete the course within the expected duration, as specified on the CoE. An extension may be granted:

- a. If there are compassionate, compelling or extenuating circumstances: Such circumstances are defined in the National Code as circumstances beyond the student's control, which have an impact on the student's course progress or wellbeing. These could include, but are not limited to:
 - serious illness or injury, where a medical certificate states that the student was unable to attend classes
 - bereavement of close family members such as parents or grandparents (where possible, a death certificate should be provided)
 - major political upheaval or natural disaster in the home country requiring emergency travel where this impacts on the student's studies; or
 - a traumatic experience which could include:
 - involvement in, or witnessing of a serious accident; or

- witnessing or being the victim of a serious crime, and this has impacted on the student (these cases should be supported by police or psychologists' reports)
 - where the registered provider was unable to offer a pre-requisite unit; or
 - inability to begin studying on the course commencement date due to delay in receiving a student visa.
- b. If not completing is a result of a revised enrolment pattern due to the implementation of a Kaplan intervention strategy, or
- c. If an approved deferment or suspension of study has been granted.

Each application will be considered on its merits, with reference to the student's academic performance to date and any matters that warrant special consideration. In general, the maximum extension of time that will be granted in any circumstance is two (2) trimesters, depending on the length of the course.

Applications for a time extension must be made in writing using the Application for Course Extension form, as soon as it becomes clear that the course cannot be completed within the expected duration. Kaplan will assess the extension application, and in particular the student's ability to complete the course within the extension period.

Should the variation affect the student's duration on their CoE, a new CoE will be issued via PRISMS and this will be recorded as such (i.e. the intervention strategy implemented by Kaplan resulted in the student not being able to complete their course within the expected duration, as specified on the original CoE). Where a course is varied, the student will be provided with a copy of the student course variation (SCV) from PRISMS.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

Kaplan recognises the value of reliably and efficiently monitoring students' academic progress. As such, Kaplan has systems in place to promote early detection and support for students at risk of making unsatisfactory academic progress.

A student may be deemed to be making unsatisfactory academic progress in their course if they:

- fail to successfully complete at least 50% of their study load in a trimester
- fail the same subject/unit twice
- fail to enrol after an approved study break
- withdraw more than twice from any subject/unit
- fail to undertake an enrolment load that will enable them to complete within the guidelines of this policy.

A student may also be deemed to be making unsatisfactory academic progress and therefore 'at risk' if they fail:

- their first assessment task in a trimester
- to complete the first assessments in a subject, where there is no grant of Special Consideration, or
- to attend 70% of classes for a unit of study from the date of their enrolment.

Other indicators may be used by staff to determine students at risk of making unsatisfactory progress including low grades in ongoing formative and summative assessments including in-class tasks and mid-trimester assignments and exams. These indicators may form the basis for offering the student additional support, but on their own do not constitute unsatisfactory academic progress.

In the above situations, and where the student fails to contact Kaplan to make appropriate arrangements, Kaplan may administratively withdraw the students from the subject in week 6 of the trimester. In such situations, the students will be financially liable for the subject.

International students

International students are required to maintain satisfactory course progress as a condition of their student visa. Kaplan will ensure that the relevant National Code Standards are followed. Students who fail to maintain satisfactory course progress will be identified and an appropriate intervention strategy implemented.

If an intervention strategy has been implemented and a student fails to meet satisfactory course progress in the following trimester, the student will be provided written notification of an intention to report them to the Department of Immigration and Border Protection (DIBP) for failing to achieve satisfactory course progress, and that this may result in DIBP cancelling their student visa. The student will be informed that they have 20 working days to submit an appeal regarding this decision. Parents of students under the age of 18 will also be notified in writing. Consent must be given by students over the age of 18 for Kaplan to notify their parents.

If the student does not submit an appeal within 20 working days, a notification will then be made to DIBP via the Provider Registration and International Students Management System (PRISMS) that the student has failed to maintain satisfactory course progress. A standard letter will be placed on the student's manual file.

Supporting students

Intervention Strategy

Kaplan aims to keep attrition at a minimum in all its courses. Attrition may be high in certain cohorts, such as students in their first year of study in higher education, students taking part time courses, adult learners who have not participated in a higher education course before or for some time, students who are studying in a language other than their first language, students with significant family responsibilities and or financial difficulties, students whose performance in secondary school was not at a high level, international students, and students who commence a course late. The higher the number of these categories that a student falls into, the greater their risk of attrition. Accordingly, Kaplan will put in place actions to address these risks amongst such students. Students will:

- be given sufficient information about courses allowing well informed course choices by students
- have an effective student support model which places particular emphasis on individual attention, personal service, and tracking success or failure, and which identifies staff specifically responsible for a cohort of students.
- be provided with an orientation to Kaplan and, for international students, to Australia more generally
- be identified and followed up by student support staff where they are deemed not to be appropriately engaged with their studies
- be identified by the Vice President, Academic or delegate and followed up on where results, or lecturer or support staff reports indicate that students are experiencing difficulties in their studies because of poor academic performance, language difficulties or some other cause.
- be informed of relevant course details including withdrawal dates for subjects or courses
- engage in subjects that include training in technologies, research methods and study skills so as to enhance their likelihood of success
- have appropriately qualified academic staff who are aware that they may have students in their classes who may be 'at risk' of making unsatisfactory academic progress.

Reporting measures are in place to ensure that relevant and regular data is provided to the Vice President, Academic or delegate, and through that person to Academic Board to ensure timely intervention.

Specific measures for individual students

Kaplan will contact a student identified as making unsatisfactory academic progress. The student will be required to complete a short questionnaire and undertake an academic counselling interview with the Vice President, Academic or delegate to discuss their questionnaire responses and to formalise an intervention strategy to assist the student in their studies. The student may bring a support person to this meeting who is approved by Kaplan prior to the meeting. This process, from contacting the student to finalising an intervention strategy, is ordinarily completed prior to week three of the next trimester.

Intervention strategies used to address individual academic progress matters will be documented and may include:

- revising enrolment patterns, study load or course of enrolment
- minimum attendance requirements
- regular meetings with an identified Kaplan staff member to address key issues
- ESL and/or language support (where available or students will be directed to appropriate services)
- study skills and/or study plan
- academic counseling, referral to appropriate medical services and/or other appropriate support
- review of accommodation (Homestay) and other support systems if applicable
- establishing a learning contract outlining specific activities that are to be completed by the student
- approving leave or deferment of studies.

Copies of the intervention plan, and any modifications, will be given to the student as well as being kept on the student's academic file.

Any student who has been identified and contacted as being 'at risk', and fails to attend the required academic counselling interview or does not participate in the alternative process may be subject to the following courses of action:

- a. A Learning Plan may be developed in the student's absence and sent to the student by registered mail, which will constitute agreement on the part of the student to the conditions of the learning plan.
- b. The students may be required to meet with the Vice President, Academic or delegate to show cause as to why they should not be excluded from the course.

Exclusions

Failure to progress

A student identified as making unsatisfactory academic progress for a second time in a row may be excluded from studying at Kaplan. Students will be notified of the decision in writing and will have 20 working days from this notice to appeal the decision in line with the Complaints and Appeals Policy. Failure by the student to appeal within 20 working days will result in automatic exclusion and the student will be notified of this outcome in writing. Where appropriate, Kaplan will notify relevant agencies and appropriate individuals about the exclusion while ensuring privacy standards are met. Normal appeal processes apply to students who wish to appeal their exclusion.

Failure to complete within the time frame

Students who fail to complete course requirements within the time limit will be recorded as not meeting the requirements for the award. The course status will be 'Failed to Complete'. Students who wish to appeal an exclusion decision should refer to the Complaints and Appeals Policy. Where a student is excluded from Kaplan, they may seek re-admission later. While there is no guarantee of re-admission, applications for re-admission will be considered on a case by case basis.

Students who wish to begin the course again

The following rules apply to students who wish to enrol again in the qualification for which they have failed to meet the course requirements within the prescribed time:

- Students are required to complete a new enrolment in the qualification.
- The time limit for the period of study will recommence.
- Students will retain their existing student number.
- Students may apply for subject exemptions in accordance with the Recognition of Prior Learning Policy.
